STRIVING FOR EXCELLENCE IN THE SOCIAL SECTOR

A DECADE OF DISTINCTION

By Eric Schmall, CNPE Director of Consultation

DESCRIPTION

According to Eric Schmall, the author and the Director of Consultation with CNPE, the book celebrates the exemplary achievements of non-profit organizations in the Greater Louisville and Southern Indiana region during the past decade as recognized by CNPE.

In the book, Schmall describes CNPE's five award categories of Vision, Leadership, Governance, Collaboration, and Diversity and reveals how these key characteristics are vital to creating a vibrant, successful social sector. As told through some fifty stories, Schmall offers compelling insight on the abiding importance of these characteristics and how they will shape mission success in the coming decade. The book describes these principles and examines the award-winning organizations that have been recognized for achieving outstanding achievement for their constituents.

This book is a culmination of ten years of critical evaluation by CNPE to find and recognize the very best non-profits that embody and actualize these core principles. These principles are applicable to any great organization; the award winners highlighted in the book perform good and necessary work in our community and make them very special organizations.
